22.(1) Upon the conclusion of the case, the inquiring body shall deliberate thereon in the absence of any other party attending the hearing.

(2) If the respondent is found not guilty on the charge against him or her, he or she shall be notified accordingly as soon as reasonably possible.

(3) If the inquiring body has determined, regarding a complaint, that sufficient facts have been proved to its satisfaction to support such complaint, it shall decide whether the conduct that is the subject of the complaint so supported, constitutes unprofessional conduct, and it shall announce its finding in this regard.

(4) After a finding referred to in subregulation (3) has been announced or after the respondent has pleaded guilty and the inquiring body has resolved that no evidence shall be led, the designated complainant shall adduce evidence of previous convictions of the respondent under the Act, if any such convictions have been recorded previously against him or her.

- (5) (a) (i) Proof of previous convictions under the Act shall be adduced by means of a certificate to be issued under the hand of the registrar.
- (ii) Such certificate shall specify the complaint brought against the respondent at the time, as well as the finding, the date thereof and the penalty imposed.

(6) The chairperson shall afford the designated complainant the opportunity of making a representation in regard to the imposition of a suitable penalty.

(7) The chairperson shall then afford the respondent or his or her legal representative, if present, the opportunity of addressing the inquiring body in mitigation of the penalty to be imposed and of leading or giving evidence in mitigation.

(8) After the inquiring body has again deliberated in the absence of any other party attending the hearing, it shall impose the penalty on which it decides.

(9) Where the professional conduct committee finds a respondent guilty, it shall report its finding to the council and arrange for the requirements of subregulation (10) to be complied with.

- (b) none of the respondents would be detrimentally affected by such a simultaneous disciplinary inquiry, he or she may direct that the complaint or complaints against such respondents, be heard simultaneously.

(2) The chairperson, at a simultaneous disciplinary inquiry referred to in subregulation (I), shall apply the provisions of regulations 18 to 22 on the basis that every reference in it to the respondent or his or her legal representative shall be applied alternately on the respondents in the order determined by the chairperson.

- (3) (a) Any respondent may, at any time prior to or during a simultaneous disciplinary inquiry, request a separate hearing.
- (b) If the inquiring body is of the opinion that the respondent concerned has indicated good reasons for such separation of the disciplinary inquiry, the proceedings relating to that respondent shall be suspended and the respondent concerned shall be heard separately by an inquiring body constituted of other members.
- (4) If the inquiring body deems it advisable, separation of a disciplinary inquiry referred to in subregulation (3) may take place on the basis that the remaining two or more respondents may be heard anew together.

- 24.(1) (a) In case of common relevancy of facts or circumstances between two or more disciplinary inquiries, no member of any inquiring body shall serve at more than one such disciplinary inquiry.
- (b) If such commonality is revealed during the course of a disciplinary hearing and it appears further that the same member is serving at more than one such disciplinary inquiry that have already commenced and the circumstances are such that he or she may possibly be influenced by the proceedings at one disciplinary inquiry concerning his or her view of another, the proceedings concerned at such disciplinary inquiry shall take place anew before an inquiring body consisting of different members.
- (2) The provisions of this regulation shall not be interpreted so as to preclude a simultaneous hearing referred to in regulation 23.

- 25.(1) The proceedings of a disciplinary inquiry shall be accessible to the public: Provided that -
 - (a) any decision of the inquiring body with regard to any matter relating to or arising during an inquiry may be taken in the absence of any other party attending the hearing;
 - (b) any evidence submitted during a disciplinary inquiry, upon submission of valid reasons, may, at the discretion of the inquiring body, be heard in the absence of any other party attending the hearing; and
 - (c) upon submission of valid reasons, the inquiring body may, at its discretion, direct that no person shall, at any time and in any manner, publish any information that is likely to reveal the identity of a specific person, excluding that of the respondent.
